Herald's Dispatch. Washington, Oct. 23.—Generals McClellan. Banks and Stone have been on the Virginia side of the river all day in the vicinity of Leesburg, and it is telegraphed to headquarters to night that their troops are in possession of that place. The whole of General Banks's command have crossed the river, so that our forces now are in sufficient strength to meet any number the reb-els are capable of concentrating at that point. A reconnoissance in force was made to-day from the camp of General Blenker's division

I am informed by the highest authority in this Government that the published statement in a New York paper to day that at a cabinet meeting yesterday all the members of that body pronounced judgment that Fremont should be pronounced judgment that Fremont should be superseded, and that the order to this effect would be issued to day, is untrue. No such de-cision was made in cabinet, and as a matter of course no such order has been issued. The facts are, the condition of affairs in General

Fremont's department was discussed in cabinet yesterday. Some of the members were in favor of depriving him of his command immediately and ordering him here to be tried by court-martial, others opposed such action while in his present position in the face of the enemy.

showing the supremacy the Federal forces have gained, threatening the whole coast, and able to assall at any point the entire frontier of the South, the following declaration of despair is uttered:

The possibility of our success is not within range of accident. To prevent our subjugation or extermination is all we can hope for. We have no skill in strategy—know nothing of the means at the command of our Generals—but if this is all that is left us, we had as well be looking out for terms of submission, and the sconer the better. An endless war, which affords no opportunity for either victory or revenge, is a bootless undertaking. The Southern people who have offered themselves and their all for the prosecution of this war, and have placed implicit confidence in the men intheir all for the prosecution of this war, and have placed implicit confidence in the men in-vested with its conduct, have looked for some-

It is not to be denied that a sense of unqual-ified distruct is gradually supplanting that gen-erous confidence; that a suspicion is gaining ground that all the advantages of our position have not been profited by as they might have been, that the war has not been prosecuted with the vigor and energy demanded by the emer gency. We hear muttering complaints, spart from those connected with the Quartermaster, Commissary, and Medical departments, growing out of the appointment of so many civilians to high commands. Many of these appointments have filled the country with apprehensious of disaster.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 .- The steamer McClel lan arrived from the South-west Pass on the and a half o'clock the enemy attacked Colone and a half o'clock the enemy attacked Colonel Wilson's position in force. Company E, Third infantry, Captain Hildt, and twenty seven men, Company A, First artilley, Lieutenant Taylor, eighty-five men in all, under Major Vogdee, met the enemy some distance above Camp Brown. Major Vogdes was taken prisoner immediately. Captain Alidt, taking command, engaged the enemy. Our loss was four killed, twenty-one wounded and eight taken prisoners. The enemy's loss was much larger; eleven of their men were found in one heap. Major Arnold arrived after daylight to the assistance of Capt. Hildt. Capt. Hilds,

The command then proceeded to a point where the rebels had disembarked, just as their steamers were leaving, and opened on them a destructive fire. The enemy's loss left on the island was twenty-two killed, five wounded and thirty three prisoners. Many of the wounded were carried off. Captain Bradford and Lieut. Elians were killed. Three officers were cap-tured, one of them Lieut. James, formerly of the United States Marines, badly wounded. Gen. Anderson was in command of the rebels,

The rebel forces, fifteen hundred strong, embarked from the Pensacola navy yard in three large steamers, and landed on the island about four miles above the camp. It was about & A. M., and very dark. The rapidly formed in three columns, and proceeded allently toward the Zonave camp, hoping to effect a total surprise. In this they were but partially successful. The picket guard, attained about six hundred yards from the camp, discovered and fired upon them, giving the slarm, which saved the regiment from annihilation. The attack of the rebel columns was simulta-neous, and volley after volley was aimed upon the volunteers. They were forced to fallback, leaving their camp in the hands of the rebels, which they commenced burning.

Fort Pickens was by this time aroused, and three companies of regulars came to our assist-ance. The rebals then commenced retreating to their boats, closely followed by the regulars and a small number of volunteers, keeping up a destructive fire upon them, killing and wound-ing a large number. The rebels finally reached heir boats, but the steamers were over five hundred yards from the beach, and our men poured repeated volleys into the crowded mass. From Cairo. CAIRO, Oct. 24 .- Col. Buford and Capt. Dres ser, of McClernand's staff, accompanied by sev eral other gentlemen, went to Columbus yester day, on the propeller Sampson, for the purpose of exchanging prisoners. The party was cordi-ally received by Gens. Polk and Pillow. Sixteen prisoners were released. The town is well for-tified; a battery of eight 24-pounders is placed at the upper end of the town, and two forts are being built one mile and a half above the town. No guns yet mounted. The number of rebels at Columbus is not over ten thousand.

This afternoon a rebel brigade was seen going in the direction of Conrad's Ferry, and disappeared behind the woods, where it is said there is an earthwork, numbering seven hundred. This is between the river and Leesburgt two miles from Leesburg. About the same time Gen. Abercromble sent word to headquarters that the enemy was advancing towards his position, on the Virginia side, from above and below, and asking for reinforcements. Orders were issued to rush over a strong force to his relief. Up to the present hour (one o'clock, P. M.) no attack has been adrisable to withdraw our troops from the Virginia shore at Edwards's Ferry and Harrison's Island. This was also necessary from the high stage of the river.

From Fortress Monroe. FORTRESS MONROE, Oct. 23.—The S. A palding returned from Hatteras Inlet last ght.
